

Genesis Wall

updated topo
April 2010

Murrin Park

The climbs at Genesis Wall range from 5.8 to 5.10c, are characteristically steep and juggy, and offer both sport and trad options.

Protection is always between “adequate” and “generous”. All climbs can be TRed.

Approach: less than 1 minute.

At Murrin Parking lot, walk 10 parking stalls north from Up From the Bog and find a trail that crosses a ditch. Walk 40m up the trail to the crag.

1. Genesis (5.10a, 25m)

Steep, gymnastic climbing. Gear small to 3” with double in the small sizes. Spicy crux. Hamish Mutch & Ian Kennedy, 1961. Recleaned: Jeremy Frimer (2009)

2. Geniside (5.10b, 25m)

Vertical finger cracks for mere mortals. Gear to 3” with doubles in the small sizes. Shares anchor with Genesis. FFA Rob Rohn et al. (1982). recleaned and new finish: Jeremy Frimer (2009)

3. Cain & Able (5.8, 20m)

Up a corner then clip the second-to-last bolt of Original Thin and face climb out left before hiking rightward to the chains. Jeremy Frimer (2009)

4. Pseudo-Buddhists (5.10b/c, 15m)

Sport. Jeff Thompson (2009)

5. Original Thin (5.10c, 20m)

Sport. A technical, angling ramp. Keep the grade at 10b if you step up at the second-to-last bolt and foot traverse the ramp. Jeremy Frimer (2009)

